

Flag Flying Policy

Adopted at Full Council 17/5/2023

The Union Flag is the national flag of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, the Crown Dependencies and the Overseas Territories. It is a symbol of national unity and pride. The first Union Flag was created in 1606 and combined the flags of England and Scotland; the present Union Flag dates from 1801.

There are designated days when the Union Flag must be flown on UK government buildings or at official government flag pole sites, by command of His Majesty The King. However, UK government buildings are encouraged to fly the Union Flag all year around.

This guidance is aimed at UK government buildings. However, we would encourage local authorities and other local organisations to follow suit where they wish to fly flags.

Flying the Union Flag

Where UK government buildings only have one flagpole, the Union Flag should be flown every day except on certain occasions when you may wish to fly other flags, including but not limited to, the national flags of the constituent nations of the United Kingdom, the Armed Forces Day flag, the Commonwealth flag, county and other local flags, and other flags which may promote civic pride.

DCMS may issue ad-hoc guidance encouraging UK government buildings to fly such flags throughout the year, alongside the Union Flag

Where UK government buildings have more than one flagpole, and two flags are being flown, the Union Flag must always be flown in the superior position which is either:

- the highest flagpole
- the centre flagpole where there is an odd number of poles of the same height, or
- the left centre flagpole viewed from the front of the building, where there is an even number of poles of the same height

In England, it is now possible to fly more than one flag on the same flagpole if there is enough space.* If so, the Union Flag should always fly on top ('in the superior position').

UK government building flagpoles should not remain empty – the default should be flying the Union Flag if no other flag is being flown.

In Northern Ireland, designated flag flying for Northern Ireland government buildings is governed by legislation rather than this guidance.

EXAMPLE:

Designated days for flying the Union Flag on UK government buildings 2023

- 1 March: St David's Day (in Wales only)
- 13 March: Commonwealth Day (second Monday in March)
- 17 March: St Patrick's Day (in Northern Ireland only)
- 9 April: His Majesty's Wedding Day
- 23 April: St George's Day (in England only)
- 6 May: Coronation Day
- 17 June: Official Birthday of His Majesty The King
- 21 June: Birthday of The Prince of Wales
- 17 July: Birthday of The Queen Consort
- 8 September: His Majesty's Accession
- 12 November: Remembrance Day (second Sunday in November)
- 14 November: Birthday of His Majesty The King
- 30 November: St Andrew's Day (in Scotland only)

Guidance taken from <https://www.gov.uk/guidance/designated-days-for-union-flag-flying>

The Parish Council has resolved to fly the Parish Council Flag at all times apart from the days recommended annually by the government website, where the Union Flag will be flown. The Open Spaces Department will take responsibility for changing the flag throughout the year.

At the moment the Ukrainian flag will continue to be flown in solidarity for Ukraine, during the current conflict.
